

Teach Us to Number Our Days

Psalm 9:1-17

Psalm 90 is Moses looking back over his life. At this point he is around 120 years old. He's led the people of Israel out of slavery in Egypt. He was supposed to lead them into the Promised Land. Yet because of their stubbornness and rebellion, what could have been a journey of a few months became forty years of wandering in the wilderness. During that time, he's had to watch the entire generation of those led out of bondage die in the desert. On top of that, he knows because of his own sin he will not step foot in the Promised Land.

Moses Reflects About God vs.1-2

Moses Reflects About Death vs. 3-6,10

Moses Reflects About Sin vs. 7-10, 11

Moses Reflects About Hope vs.12-17